

COUNTY CRICKET/Bowler missed as batsmen blunder

Bass brew up another maximum

Division A & B

Division A leaders BASS continued their fine start to the season with yet another full haul of points.

Their latest victims came in the battle of breweries in the shape of MARSTON'S, who were put in to bat and were quickly dismissed for a meagre score of 114.

That was due in the main to a fine spell of medium pace bowling by Phil Kershaw, which earned him the day's best figures of a splendid 8-36.

Bass duly proceeded to knock off the runs for the loss of only one wicket as Keith Widdows was bowled after making a fine 70 and Richard Deaville finished unbeaten on 40.

Last year's Division B champions HARTSHORNE notched up their first A win of the season with a 27 runs defeat of TUTBURY.

Put in to bat, Hartshorne mustered 116 in 36 overs due to good bowling by Kenny Allsobrook (5-51). Paul Ellam top scored with 32.

Tutbury then stuttered for 40 overs before being all out for 89, Trev Mawby bowling continuously for 20 overs and finishing with 6-35, ably assisted by Ellam, with 3-13.

Second-place ROBIRCH-HOSPITALS also continued in victory vein, claiming their fifth consecutive win, albeit with a struggle, at BARTON.

The hosts were put in to bat and dismissed for only 103, Stuart Harrison doing the damage by taking 7-38.

In reply, Robirch-Hospitals toiled to 104-5 in 43.3 overs with Peter Harley on 47.

ROLLESTON moved up a spot into third place after scoring 135-6 in their allotted overs — P Glover making 30 — then keeping IND COOPE to only 102, with Mick Acton (5-31) being the main wicket taker.

ALREWAS, put in by HAMMERWICH, struggled to 131-5 thanks to Mark Sheasby with a steady unbeaten 63, assisted by Tim Aston (33) and Jon Seigel (23).

Positions

Lead

Hammerwich, in reply, could only muster 98 as Jon Seigel took 4-12 in 5.3 overs.

TRENTSIDE followed the lead of their first XI by going top of Division B with an easy seven-wicket win over PIRELLI who made only 101 in 42 overs.

The home side then comfortably knocked off the runs for the loss of only three wickets in 27.2 overs.

Second placed DRAYCOTT AND HANBURY also had an easy win.

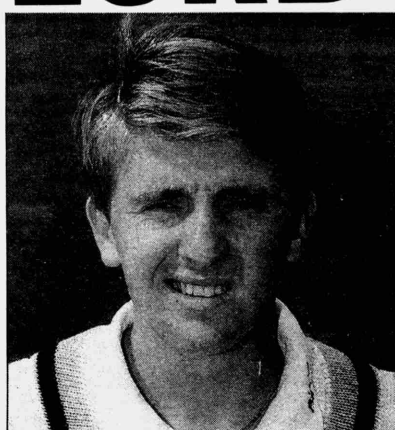

After asking UTTOXETER to set the target, they dismissing the visitors for 94 in 45 overs, Ronnie Tomlinson (4-16) and Paul Gregory (3-31) taking the bowling honours.

Draycott then coasted to a winning total with eight wickets to spare, three batsmen scoring the majority of the runs — Ronnie Tomlinson (37), Harry Elden (28 not out) and Adam Hall (24).

In the remaining game at PASTURES HOSPITAL, visitors WINSHILL reached 141-5, with Alan Tonkinson making 48 and Tim Moore 43 and Phil Shaw taking 4-49.

The home side then stuttered to 92-8, Ian McIntyre top scoring with 31 and Paul Mansfield (4-36) proving Winhill's main bowler.

DERBYS SING LORD'S BLUES

● Dominic Cork . . . showed plenty of conviction in making runs at Lord's.

After a delayed start, Derbyshire won the toss and batted against Middlesex at Lord's yesterday — and they batted badly.

All out for 168 and with Middlesex 72-2 at the close of play on the first day, the bowlers have much to do to keep Derbyshire in this county championship game.

Visiting skipper Kim Barnett must have had doubts about batting in the morning, with the atmosphere humid and the sky overcast.

On the other hand, the pitch, having been used for a Sunday league game already, ought to turn and the outfield was very wet.

Barnett probably made the correct decision. What he did not bargain for was an airy drive by John Morris, an indecisive jab by Tim O'Gorman and a collapse of the last seven wickets for a only 40 runs.

He, too, did not help matters by chasing a wide delivery after making 33.

Only Chris Adams and Dominic Cork batted with conviction. Even then,

by Ian Hall

Adams, having made 53, padded up to a straight delivery and was out leg before wicket without offering a shot.

Cork resisted stoutly in making 38 but Derbyshire badly missed the absent Peter Bowler who was sitting a law exam.

Balance

He above everyone might have provided the correct answers to this batting problem.

In the evening session the Derbyshire bowlers tried hard to redress the balance.

Cork struck an important blow by having the dangerous West Indies batting star Desmond Haynes caught at slip by Adams, and Devon Malcolm tempted Mark Ramprakash into a rash drive.

Several edged shots nearly went to hand and Derbyshire did not have the best of luck, although Mike Roseberry was forced to retire hurt after being hit on the hand by a ball from medium pacer Frank Griffith.

Were Derbyshire to snatch some early wickets on this second morning they could yet be in this match with a chance but greater consistency with the bat is needed if they are to be a real force in the championship.

Gower's Test reminder

David Gower thrust himself back into England contention with a majestic 153 in the Britannia Assurance championship against Nottinghamshire and then admitted: "It isn't a bad reminder, is it?"

Hampshire's England discard struck 19 boundaries in a 309-minute innings at Trent Bridge, for the 50th first class century of his career.

Gower's performance lifted a weakened Hampshire side, enabling them to reach 297-6 on the opening day.

Leaders Somerset struggled against champions Essex at Chelmsford and were bowled out for 202.

Their top scorer was an unlikely one — Pakistan leg-spinner Mushtaq Ahmed who hit 71. Essex cruised to 73 for one.

Alan Fordham scored his first championship ton of the season and was unbeaten on 125 as Northamptonshire reached 252 for two against Worcestershire at Northampton.

Glamorgan's Adrian Dale was another centurion, hitting exactly 100 off the Yorkshire attack at Middlesbrough in a score of 302 for seven.

And Lancashire romped to 392 after being put in by Surrey at The Oval, led by 107 from Mike Watkinson. Surrey survived three overs to finish at 4-0.

Kent lost Martin McCague with hamstring trouble after he had bowled just 19 balls against Gloucestershire at Tunbridge Wells. The visitors posted 221-5.

CRICKET/ A look back on Phil Russell's career

Openers left a target too far

By Mike Berry

Match-winning openers Steve Dean and David Cartledge have fronted one of two staggering Staffordshire run chases in recent years.

But a target of 235 in just 34 overs, and on a rain-freshened wicket at that, was asking too much of even the most prolific partnership in Minor Counties cricket at Aylesbury.

Staffordshire had been left 81 minutes and 20 overs by ultra-cautious Buckinghamshire skipper Gary Black, but when rain cut 29 minutes off the start of the chase, it left Dean and Cartledge needing to produce one of their best efforts ever to give Staffs even half a chance.

Instead Cartledge went without scoring in the second over, and Dean was yanked by Australian-born paceman Paul Roshier for just six to leave Staffs on 8-2.

The impossible dream was dead, and it was left to David Banks (46 not out) and Simoni Myles (28 not out) to play out the remaining hour, with poor Paul Shaw denied the chance to get to the crease for the second successive day.

Bucks had crawled to 258-9 declared off 89 overs in their second innings, Tim Scriven top-scoring with 94 before being caught at square-leg by Shaw off Denton Brock.

Only the late introduction of Myles (3-22) threatened to bowl Bucks out.

Scores: Bucks 197-5 dec and 258-9 dec (T Scriven 94, S Myles 3-22); Staffs 221-3 dec and 84-2 (D Banks 46 not out). Match drawn, Bucks 3 pts, Staffs 5pts.

Greatest loss of all

Following the loss of Ian Bishop for the season and the removal of the chief executive and two senior members of the administrative staff, Derbyshire are now to lose Phil Russell, the club coach, at the end of the season.

Russell, who is to take up the post of head groundsman at Durban Cricket Ground in South Africa, will be sadly missed in Derbyshire and the loss of him is undoubtedly the most severe of all.

Born in Ilkeston and a Derbyshire man through and through, Russell joined the staff as a wicketkeeper-batsman in 1965, but soon realised there was no future in that with Bob Taylor around.

Turning to bowling accurate medium pace, he developed the ability to bowl off-cutters when the pitch was suitable and became particularly adept in the limited overs game, especially the Sunday League which began in 1969.

He left the staff in 1972 but returned 12 months later, was awarded his county cap in 1975 and was appointed county coach in 1977.

Phil made a spectacular debut in county cricket. The match was against Nottinghamshire at Trent Bridge and the young Russell was full of enthusiasm.

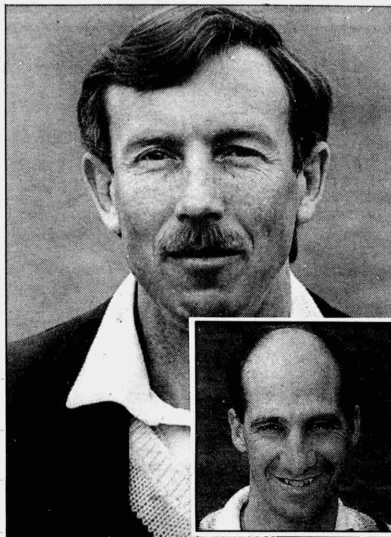

Notts were batting on the final day of the match, looking to set Derbyshire a target and Russell was fielding at square leg.

In those days there was no such thing as "declaration bowling". On the other hand, the experienced players in the Derbyshire side were not exactly bursting themselves to stop runs.

Not so young Russell. As the ball was turned to the legside, Phil hurled himself forward to try to pick up an almost impossible catch. The next moment there was blood and teeth all over Trent Bridge.

The ball had hopped up and hit the unfortunate Russell in the face. Stitches and dentistry were required.

When reminded of that occasion, Phil smiles his slow smile, just as he does when people talk of the Sunday League match at Northampton in 1972, when Derbyshire needed six to win off the last ball of the match. That thought is worth an extra puff on the pipe.

He was appointed county coach in 1977 and, along with Kim Barnett, has been instrumental in Derbyshire's development throughout the 1980s.

His ability to spot untapped talent is well known and the present Derbyshire staff is a tribute to his efforts.

When asked at a cricket committee meeting to describe the character of a sparky young player, Phil's reply was brief.

"If you've got a black dog," he said, "he's got one blacker". Philip Russell will be a hard act to follow.

After the high jinks at Taunton, last week was fairly low key for the county.

The Sunday League wash-out at Checkley was a great disappointment. Derbyshire need to make more visits to beautiful grounds like Checkley for Sunday matches and forget those who would play every match at Derby.

Britain's fastest single scaters head for Donington Park this weekend for the fourth round of the British Formula 2 Championship — and packed in around them on a 14-race programme is a superb array of national action.

Phillipe Adams is the man of the moment in the 180 miles an hour "Grand Prix Look-alike" F2 cars — driving the Madgwick Reynard 92D the Belgian has won all three races so far and is confident of further success in Sunday's 26 lap, 65 mile race.

But, he will be under pressure from two Midlands drivers — Nigel Smith, from Daventry, is keen to add to his points haul, and consolidate his second place in the championship with a positive showing in the Jupiter Racing Reynard, while Birmingham's Phil Andrews lines up in the Cobra Motorsport Reynard.

Andrews aims to make use of the experience gained when he drove a similar car at the Leicestershire circuit in the opening round of the International F3000 Championship.

Adding to the action will be Italian drivers Guido Nannini and Marco

Thrills of F-2 roar to Park

Spiga together with Jose Luis di Palma from the Argentine, Mike van Hool of Belgium and Severino Nardozi of Monaco.

Grid positions for the race will be decided in two periods of timed qualifying on Saturday, and around these will be two Formula Ford races, two Alfa Romeo races and a round of the Formula Forward championship.

Main race day is Sunday, with eight races from 1.45pm, starting with a round of the Vecta Caterham Vauxhall Challenge. The series regulars will need to check the pace of Tamworth's Kelvin Burt as the British F3 Championship leader means business in his "one-off" race.

A well subscribed Pirelli Maranello Ferrari Challenge comes prior to the British F2 race, and then TVR Tuscans take centre stage. Former British Touring Car Champion Chris Hodgetts could be one to watch, along with Steve Cole, Mark Hales and Colin Blower.

Scott scotched

Scott Lakin's return to the British Formula 3 Championship proved frustrating for the Ashby racer after an eight month enforced absence.

Qualifying for Monday's Silverstone race was spoilt by mechanical problems in his car's fuel system which left Scott a frustrated 20th on the starting grid.

Worse was to come in the race when Scott stalled on the line and then in an encouraging comeback drive which had seen him move from twenty-seventh and last to fifteenth. Scott was hit by another car spun out of contention.

Pro-Sport 3000, "look-alike Le Mans cars" add to the action, with Leicester's Peter Hardman a likely pacesetter. Speed and top class single seater thrills will be provided by both the Pre-90 Formula Fords and the BRSCC Toyota F3 Championship race, while historic replays close the day in the Chabaut Champagne Sports Car Championship.

Practice each day from 9am, racing starts Saturday 2pm and Sunday 1.45pm. Adult special trackside admission is Saturday £3, Sunday £8. Accompanied children under-15 free.
